

For the past 20 years,
Dr. Theresa Burke has helped
3,245 invisible women.

Most abortions involve coercion. 65% suffer trauma.
Suicide rates are 6 times higher among women who abort.

Every day, psychotherapist Dr. Theresa Burke meets women who don't exist. They're among millions who struggle with a grief that nobody wants to talk about. Her organization, Rachel's Vineyard, has served nearly 50,000 women and receives up to 400 inquiries a month from women seeking help after abortion. Similar programs have served as many as 20 million women and others impacted by abortion. In the book "Forbidden Grief," Dr. Burke shares stories of coercion, trauma and grief ... of intense, even violent pressure to abort ... of false information and non-support. Unresolved, this grief can lead to despair, or even suicide. Fortunately, millions are learning that healing is possible. Learn more on-line:
